

Unlocking
Your Land's
Potential

Efficient by Design. Exceptional by Nature.

Earle & Page specialise in minor residential housing developments which are often challenging to make viable. We focus on delivering a superior product faster than that associated with traditional builds. Many smaller sites in the UK remain undeveloped as they are typically unattractive to developers and fail to achieve vendors' anticipated values.

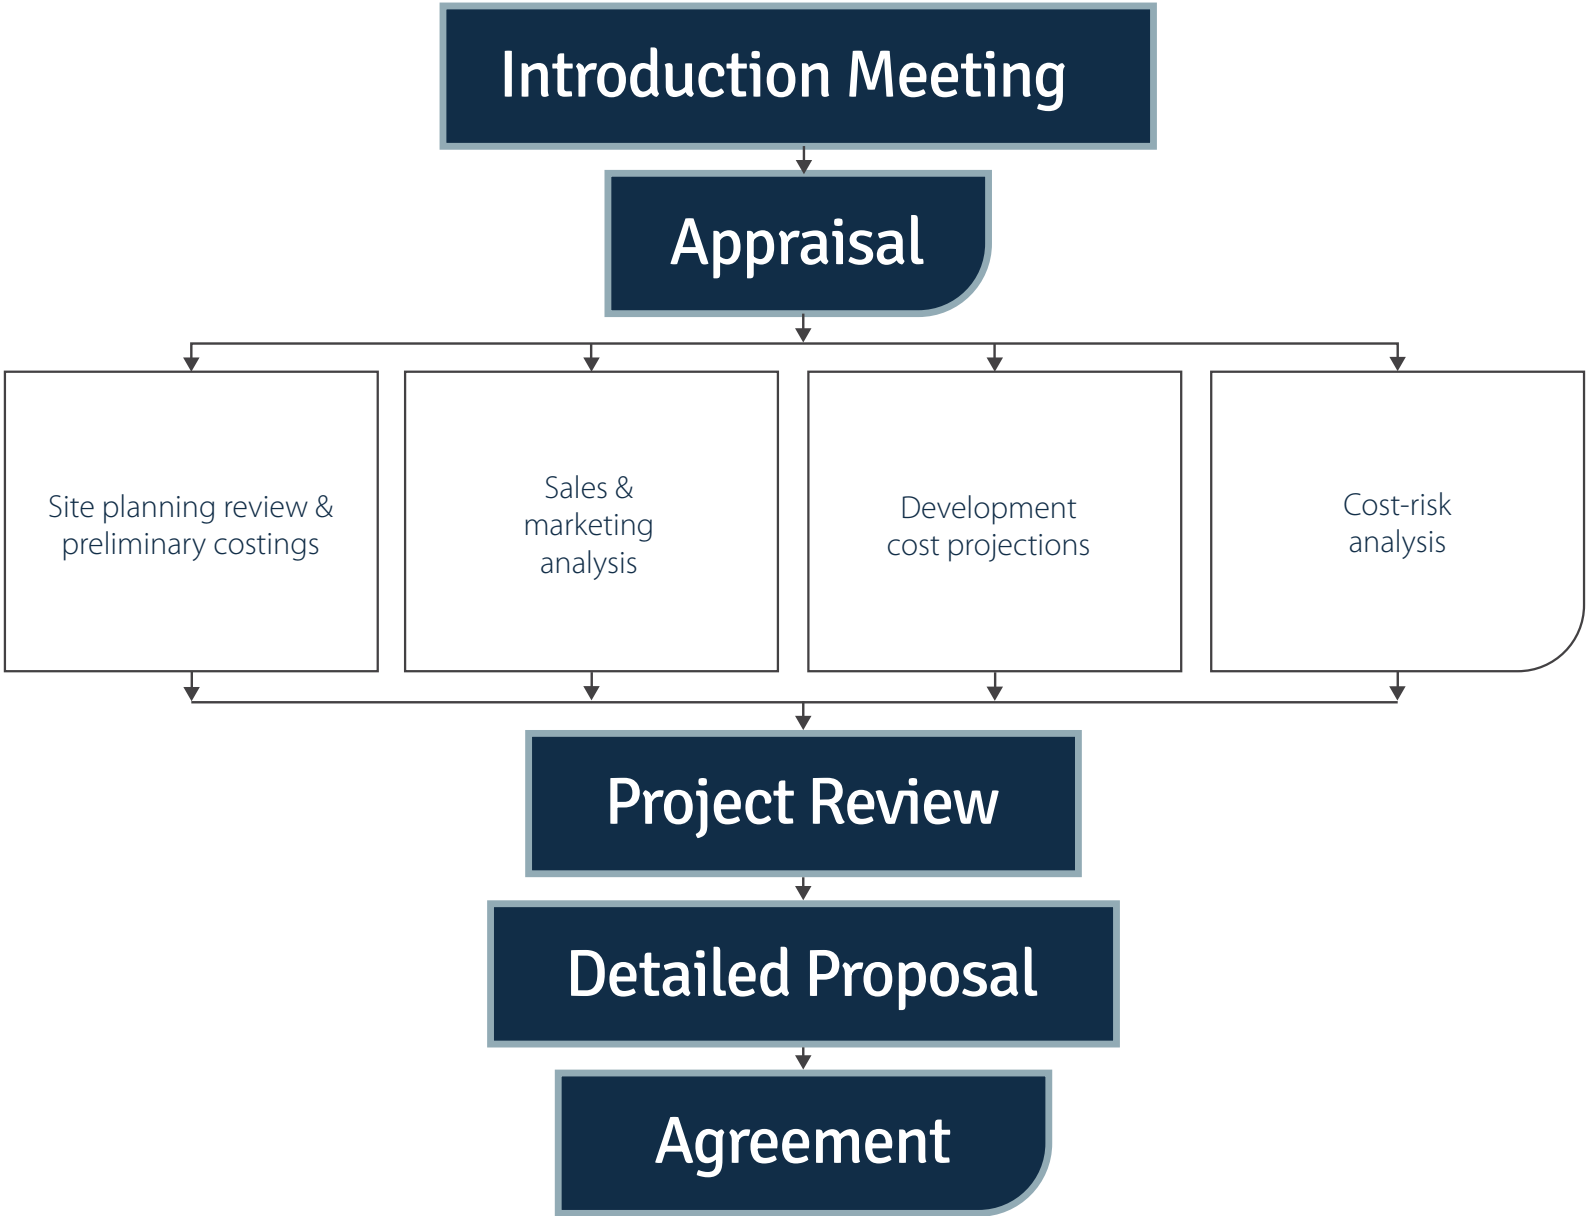

By employing Modern Methods of Construction (MMC), we aim to construct and exit from a project within 9-12 months. This reduces the financial risk associated with smaller developments which in turn brings the completed properties to market more quickly.

Working together in partnership we are able to provide a structured and timely exit for landowners. By leveraging our expertise and sharing the risk, your land can be developed and mobilised quickly resulting in a win-win for all.

Land Purchases, Joint Ventures & Partnerships

Whilst specialising in minor developments we consider all types of land, and follow a simple process with the objective of determining an acceptable value for each party.
